Tour Directors may have requested a specific payment schedule, check your paper statement.

Some airlines require 60 day advance ticketing. In this case a spring group may be given a 90 day prior to departure final balance due date.

Actual payment due dates vary by tour and individual, based on when the initial deposit was received. All invoices/statements clearly show payment due dates and the final balance date. ## PASSPORTS & VISAS

Your passport must be valid at least 6 months beyond your international return date in most cases (per travel.state.gov)!!!

Non-U.S. citizens may need to obtain visas even if they already have a valid passport. It is the sole responsibility of the participant to determine if a visa(s) is required for your tour.

For more passport information and office locations visit: <http://travel.state.gov>

Make 3 photocopies of the first page of your passport (with your picture): Send TSA Tours a copy (either digitally or by mail), leave one copy with your family or friends back home and take another copy with you.

PACKING & FLYING

Checked bags:

- Lay out everything you think you need, then pack half of it.
- Take clothes that don't wrinkle or show stains too easily.
- Pack several lightweight base-layers and one or two versatile outerwear items so you can layer depending on the weather.
- Bring comfortable shoes.
- Wear your bulkier items on the plane so they take up less suitcase space.

Carry-on:

- Liquids & gels: Each person may take one 1-quart clear plastic bag with containers no larger than 3 ounces each.
- Pack a change of clothes, toothbrush and basic toiletries plus any other necessities in case your checked bag is delayed.
- Visit www.tsa.gov for more details and updates.

General:

- Other countries have differently shaped electrical outlets. You can purchase plug adapters at many stores in the U.S., but beware that some devices may be "fried" by higher voltage. Make sure your device is able to handle 220 volts before plugging it in, or purchase a voltage converter.
- Arrive early for your flight!
- Wear comfortable clothes and drink plenty of water.

MONEY

We recommend that travelers to Europe, Asia and Oceania take debit cards rather than American dollars or traveler's checks.

Contact your bank prior to travel to prevent holds on your account for suspicious charges. Tell them your travel details. Upon arrival, withdraw some cash from an ATM. Unless you know you'll be leaving civilization for a while, only withdraw what you need for a day or two. The exchange rate you'll get at an ATM is usually better than a currency exchange.

Many countries in Latin America accept American dollars, but in some cases you can actually get a better deal in the local currency. You may want to purchase a money belt.

WEATHER

Bring a lightweight waterproof jacket, closed-toed shoes and an umbrella.

Parts of Europe can be very hot and humid in the summer, so be prepared with lightweight options. If you intend to visit any churches, avoid shorts, short skirts, tank tops or sleeveless shirts.

HEALTH

1. Our tours are priced to include travel, accident and medical insurance for student trips only.
2. Adult trips, please visit www.travelinsured.com/agency?agency=45637 for preferred rates. Enter $0 for the tour price to purchase accident and emergency coverage only.

If you experience a non-emergency health issue in Europe, head to the local pharmacy. Pharmacists function more like doctors and can prescribe some common medications. If necessary, they will refer you to a physician. Many visits to a clinic are free in Europe, even for travelers.

If you become ill or injured during your trip, first notify your tour leader. Your tour leader will have several emergency contact numbers on-hand, including TSA Tours' 24-hour emergency lines. We will have access to all travelers' contact information and will notify family members in case of an emergency. Your local guide, city representative, driver and hotel staff will be aware of local medical facilities and proper procedures.

STAYING IN TOUCH

 Many American cell phones function abroad, but the rates can be outrageous. Contact your provider, ask if your phone will work, and if so, how much it will cost, including roaming fees. Another option is to purchase a prepaid international phone card at your destination. These can be used in public pay phones instead of coins.

Beware of hotel phones—the charges can be very expensive for outgoing calls. Incoming calls are free, so if your friends and family have a reasonable rate plan for international calls, set up a time for them to call you in your hotel.

Internet Access: Cybercafés are easy to find, and some hotels offer free computer access to guests. Be aware that security on public terminals is often less than ideal, so take precautions when accessing banking or other private information online.

Skype and other VoIP providers such as Google Talk can save you lots of money and even make it possible to see loved ones' faces via video calling. Set up your account ahead of time if you plan to use these services.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Take advantage of the opportunity to learn a few key words and phrases, or improve your fluency if you already know the basics. Your guides will always speak English, but they and other locals are usually more than happy to assist you with speaking their language. Make the effort to speak a few words in their language and you'll be surprised how far it gets you.
